MILITARY HONORS FOR CADET BYRNE

Funeral Services at Sacred Heart Church and Burial in Academy Cemetery

FOOTBALL DOOMED AT WEST POINT

(Special from United Press.)
West Point, Nov. 1.—Cadet Eugene A. Byrne, the West Point football tackle who died from injuries received in Saturday's game with Harvard, will be buried with military honors in the academy cemetery tomorrow morning. The funeral services will be held in the Catholic faith and will be in charge of Mr. O'Keefe of the Church of the Sacred Heart. The body, with the Stars and Stripes as its shroud, will be borne to the cemetery on a caisson. The entire cadet body will act as an escort and members of the fourth year class, to which Cadet Byrne belonged, will serve as pall bearers.

All the post officers will attend the funeral as will a delegation from the Harvard Club of New York. At the grave three volleys will be fired. John A. Byrne, ex-chief of police of Buffalo, the father of the dead football player, who, with his daughter, was present at the game and witnessed the fatal accident, his wife and son and daughter, are here for the funeral. Mrs. Byrne arrived after the death of her son, which fact added greatly to her grief. Wives of the officers tried in vain to console her.

The death of Cadet Byrne has thrown a shadow over the entire academy, and officers and cadets alike drilled to meet life's tragedies bravely, move quietly about with stern set faces.

There will be no more football at the academy this year. In fact, football will not be discussed again this year, and the selection of a captain for the 1910 eleven, in the event that football is continued, will not be made until next fall.

With Byrne's death upmost in the minds of everyone, many are urging that the game be permanently abandoned. The big majority of the cadets, however, are hoping that the authorities will not place its ban upon the game. The injury to Byrne is now declared to have been the fracture of the third cervical vertebrae, the injury being almost identical to that of Midshipman Earl D. Wilson, of the Annapolis team, who is now supposed to be in a dying condition. In Wilson's case it was the fifth cervical vertebrae that was broken. Byrne lived fourteen hours after his injury and was conscious but a few seconds of this time. Scores of messages of sympathy have been received, a number coming from the football team and officers at Annapolis. It is expected that the government will send someone from the War Department to attend the funeral in an official capacity. The annual Army-Navy game at Philadelphia has also been cancelled.

TAWNEY READY FOR TRIP TO PANAMA CANAL

Washington, Oct. 30.—Chairman James A. Tawney of the house appropriation committee is in Washington preparatory to the trip of his committee to the canal zone to look into the matter of appropriations for the canal for the coming year. The committee will sail from New York Nov. 3 on the Cristobal and will land on the isthmus on Nov. 10. It is expected that the party will be accompanied by members of the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals and by several members of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce. The delegation will number about thirty-five persons, including clerks and stenographers.

WHAT IS A PUBLIC SPIRITED CITIZEN?

(By Harry F. Porter.)
We often here the term "Public Spirited Citizens." Just what does this mean?

A public spirited citizen is one who has large enough heart to take in all of the people.

His creed includes no narrow, petty, selfish interest, no prejudice of race or creed or sex.

All men are his brothers, and especially his fellow-townsmen. He makes their interest always his own, for he is wise enough to see that what best serves all will best serve him. He is not blinded by his own, immediate, personal, selfish interests so that he fails to forecast the future and consequently, in all that he does, he builds for that very future and this success is like an everwelling stream, gathering volume and greatness as it flows.

He sees that for his own best welfare and that of his neighbor, and that of all his co-partners in the civic household, in short, the highest good of the city as a whole, is best served by putting into practice, the affairs of the commonwealth as in his private affairs, those common principles of honesty and thoroughness that are in reality at the bottom of all true success.

He sees that to skip his duty in anywise in the community, to escape his full assessment of taxation, to lend his influence to any cause that does not make for the greatest good of the greatest number and for progress steady and sure, is rank dishonesty, and in the end will bankrupt the city and react upon his own business to its destruction.

He sees that in stagnation is doom and therefore persistently and consistently labors for betterment in all things of which he is a part.

He sees, in a disorderly and unkempt town, a loss of self-respect himself, and by all citizens, and by the outside world for the town and its citizens, and thus a direct loss to his own and all private and public enterprise.

He sees that not to take an active interest in the welfare of the city, state and nation, under whose protection he abides and is enabled to prosper, is to surrender the government to the control of the self-seekers, greedy grafters, and entrenched privilege, especially those interests dealing in public service, and that these if left unmolested, will ever league together to defraud and deceive the people to connive and coerce legislation to serve their own special, immediate selfish interests, and who naturally withstand all progress because it interferes with their stronghold.

He therefore gets out and takes his part, and if called upon to serve his city he responds willingly and puts his heart and soul into the work.

He is, in short too wise to be fooled one single instant by any of the people any of the time. He knows men because he is first a man himself, for a truly man is not deceived by artifices of any sort.

Such a man was P. T. Barnum, Bridgeport's foremost, greatest most famous, most successful and most prosperous citizen. And he was all of these because he was, by nature, large enough in his calibre to subserve his own immediate, selfish interests always, foresee the future, and perceive his indissoluble relation to his fellowmen.

We must have more men of this calibre in Bridgeport before we can create a city, which means us individually and collectively, have decent government and any real, worthwhile life.

Today Bridgeport is, to borrow a popular phrase, pretty much of a dead one. But she has all the possibilities of greatness. It is up to her citizens to say what she will be. A great city or a dump heap.

Of this calibre I believe Edward T. Buckingham, our next Mayor, public-spirited, unselfish, efficient, to a high degree.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST KOREAN OUTBREAK

Kobe, Nov. 1.—General Okubo, commander in chief of the Japanese army of occupation of Korea, called his staff into consultation today to outline a plan of campaign against the Korean outbreaks which is hourly expected. The assassination of Prince Ito at Harbin created a wide feeling of unrest in Korea in addition to the bitter anti-Japanese sentiment which is always present. General Okubo had planned to go to Tokyo to attend the funeral of Prince Ito on Thursday but the conditions in Korea caused him to abandon the trip. The outbreak at Seoul on last Friday night when several hundred rioters fired the railway station there is generally accepted as the signal for a general uprising. The rioters, who started from the city to surround the surrounding country, were dispersed by a detachment of troops from the Seoul garrison.

It is expected that in the event of a general outbreak, reinforcements will be rushed from Tokyo in order to quell the rebellion before it gains headway.

Cuba's Next Budget Not to Exceed $25,000,000

Havana, Nov. 1.—President Gomez and the leaders of the Liberal party at a meeting held today decided that Cuba's next budget must not exceed $25,000,000. The present budget provides for the expenditure of $31,000,000. The due to a number of extra obligations incurred by the provisional government under Governor Magoon, for re-establishing the Republic.

The Conservatives announce that they will oppose any budget carrying more than twenty millions.

The government receipts now exceed those of a year ago and they are increasing monthly.

THOMAS MAY RECOVER

Millionaire Horseman Who Was Stabbed by Jockey Shilling.

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Nov. 1.—The condition of Robert L. Thomas, the millionaire horseman and lumber merchant of Paris, Ky., who was stabbed just below the heart yesterday by Jockey Cal Shilling is somewhat improved today and Dr. F. A. Line, who is attending him, stated that there is a possibility of his recovery. Shilling has been remanded to await the outcome of Thomas' injuries.

Thomas was being cared for in a box stall in the stable at Sheepshead Bay where his horses are kept. It was there that he was stabbed by Shilling. Two nurses, his wife and daughter are caring for him.

Later the condition of the wounded turfman improved sufficiently to permit his removal to Trainer Henry McDaniel's cottage just outside of the racetrack.

Shilling declares he only stabbed after he had been knocked down and was being beaten by Thomas because he refused to renew a contract to ride for the Kentucky next year. Friends of Thomas deny he knocked the boy down but admit he slapped him.

FIREMEN'S PAY TO COME UP

In order to clean up the many matters of business in his hands before the end of the aldermanic year tonight the aldermanic committee on ordinances will hold a special meeting this afternoon.

The most irksome matter in the hands of the committee is the petition for increase in the pay of the members of the fire department. The members of the ordinance committee have been quietly seeking the sentiments of many people on the matter and although the firemen will not get as much as they asked for the outlook is that someone of them will get an increase.

As for the petition from the Business Men's Association asking for a public hearing in order that it might oppose the increase of the firemen's pay it is expected that the petitioners will be given leave to withdraw. A hearing was held upon this matter and everyone was given an opportunity to appear and be heard. The aldermen believe that it would be against all precedent to reopen the matter.

Proposed ordinances for the regulation of the storage of kerosene, the increase in pay of the superintendent of bridges, and the creation of a sergeant for the electrician of the police department are matters which the committee will also try to clean up at its afternoon meeting.

TEACHERS' ANNUITY GUILD.
